

Today is the first day of the Bayfield County Fair! For those of you with entries, I wish you well in getting everything to the fairgrounds and I hope that you have most everything ready to go and are not scrambling around now to finish projects and get entries organized. If not, take it as a lesson for next year and for life in general, it definitely pays to organize in advance and to avoid procrastination. This is something I think most of us will be working on for the rest of our lives, me included!

Below you will find a quick reference about the fair. As always, schedules can sometimes change, so be sure to check posted schedules out at the fairgrounds to be sure. The fair website also has all the updated information you will need.

See you at the fair! - Kaylie, 4-H Program Assistant
